If the S uth wish any concession from me, they won't get it-not a hair's breadth of it. If they come to my house for it, they will not find it. I concede nothing. not find it. I concede nothing. No matter what may be said at the Syracuse Convention. I never would consent that there -hould be on a foot of slave territory beyond what the old thirteen States had at the time of the formation of the Union. Never, never. The man can't show his face to me and prove that I ever depart from that doctrine. He would sneak away, or slink away, or bire a mercenary Heep that he might say what a mercenary apostate from liberty Daniel Webster has become. He knows himself to be a hypocrite and falsifier. * I now say is that, with the blessing of God, I will not now or herea ter, before the country or the world, corsent to be numbered among those who introduced new slave power into the Union, I will do all in my power to prevent it. The Sau h Carolinians are not well suited with the turn matters have taken in the Southern Confederacy. The Charleston Mercury of 12 h last, enters its "protest" to the doings of the Montgomery meeting gener-lly. out none especially for adopting the Federal Constitution and laws-and therefore the taciff and ami slave trade laws. Some have from the first insisted that with South Carolina the darling idea of this rebellion was the live-rade. We have the fict now cropping out at all points. The following is a single paragraph of the Mercury's article. "We deem it also unfortunate and mal apropos that the stigma of illegitimacy and theg dity should be placed upon the fastitution of slavery by a tundamental law against the stave trade. In our opinion it is a matter. of pole y, and out of principle to be decided us invoke the God of our fathers to guide, and now and hereafter, from sound views of the necessities and rafety of our people. We think it a p. per subject of legi-lation. We are willing to prohibit it by legal enactment he may oth r to pic of legislation. But while E g and imports her thousands of Coole slaves, and France hers, under the farcical appellation of apprentices'-while they are stroing by these means to compete with us and supersade us, in producing the tropical productions of si ve labor-while we have within our reach a large scope of fertile teritory uncultivated in Texas, and may have soon the silver mine: of Arizona, and the teeming States of M xico, to populate and reduces to arginon unral productiveness-it mems to us shor sighted, weak and sentienactment, the adoption of a policy that may become essential to our appropriate growth and span ion, and to our successful comuntition with the hypocritical notions of Europe."
